

Note: Any reference in this form to 'country' refers to 'foreign country' which is defined in paragraph 22(1)(f) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 as any country (whether or not an independent sovereign state) outside Australia and the external Territories.

Who should use this form?

Applicants applying for a Working Holiday visa.

Purpose of the program

The Working Holiday Maker program aims to promote international understanding. It provides opportunities for resourceful, self-reliant and adaptable young people to holiday in Australia and to supplement their funds through incidental employment.

Who is eligible?

Australia currently has reciprocal working holiday maker arrangements with the United Kingdom, Canada, the Netherlands, Japan, the Republic of Ireland, the Republic of Korea, Malta, Belgium, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China (HKSAR), Finland, the Republic of Cyprus, France, Italy, Taiwan and Estonia.

Australia is currently negotiating working holiday maker arrangements with a range of additional countries. To see whether an arrangement has been established with your country, check Fact sheet 49 on the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs (the department) website www.immi.gov.au or check with an Australian Government office.

To be eligible for the grant of a first Working Holiday visa, you must:

- be outside Australia and not have previously entered Australia on a Working Holiday visa; and
• be aged between 18 years and 30 years inclusive; and
• hold a Working Holiday-eligible passport; and
• have no dependent children; and
• not be applying more than 12 months prior to your intended travel to Australia; and
• be making an application for yourself only.

To be eligible for the grant of a second Working Holiday visa, you must:

- be either outside or in Australia and hold or have held a first Working Holiday visa; and
• have worked as a seasonal worker* in regional Australia for a minimum of 3 months while holding your first Working Holiday visa; and
• be aged between 18 years and 30 years inclusive; and
• hold a Working Holiday-eligible passport; and
• have no dependent children; and
• if outside Australia, not be applying more than 12 months prior to your intended travel to Australia; and
• be making an application for yourself only.

To be granted a Working Holiday visa, you must also agree that:

- your main reason for coming to Australia is to holiday (any work should be incidental to supplement funds);
• you will not work for any one employer for more than 6 months;
• you will not undertake studies or training for more than 4 months; and
• you will leave Australia at the end of your authorised stay.

If you intend to apply for a second Working Holiday visa, you will need to provide evidence that you have worked for a minimum of 3 months as a seasonal worker in regional Australia. Completion of form 1263 Working Holiday visa: Employment verification will constitute evidence of the work you have undertaken. You can obtain this form from your nearest office of the department or from www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

If you worked as a seasonal worker in regional Australia on your first Working Holiday visa before May 2005, you may not have form 1263 Working Holiday visa: Employment verification. Other evidence of seasonal work may include original or certified copies of payslips, group certificates, tax returns and employer references.

- * 'Seasonal work' is defined as:
- picking fruit, nuts and other crops;
- pruning and trimming vines and trees;
- general maintenance crop work;
- immediate processing of plant products;
- other work associated with packing or transporting the harvest;
- cultivating or propagating plants, fungi or their products or parts;
- maintaining animals for the purpose of selling them or their bodily produce, including natural increase;
- immediate processing of animal products including shearing, butchery, packing and tanning;
- manufacturing dairy produce from raw material;
- conducting operations relating directly to taking fish and other aquatic species;
- conducting operations relating directly to taking or culturing pearls or pearl shell;
- planting or tending trees in a plantation or forest that are intended to be felled;
- felling trees in a plantation or forest; or
- transporting trees or parts of trees that you felled in a plantation or forest to the place where they are first to be milled or processed or from which they are to be transported to the place where they are to be milled or processed.

 'Regional Australia' is defined as any area except Sydney, Newcastle, Wollongong, the NSW central coast, Brisbane, the Gold Coast, Perth, Melbourne and the ACT. How do I apply?

Applications may be made on the internet or by using this form.

Electronic Working Holiday visa

Applicants for a Working Holiday visa may also be eligible to apply directly through the department's website for an electronic Working Holiday visa. Electronic Working Holiday visa applicants are required to pay the visa application charge by credit card.

Applicants who are granted an electronic Working Holiday visa enter Australia with no visa label in their passport. They may attend the nearest office of the department after arrival in Australia and present their current passport to have a visa label placed in it. There is no charge for this service.

Applications should be made through the department's website at www.immi.gov.au using form 1150E Application for an electronic Working Holiday visa.

Note: The information below concerning where the applicants must be when they apply and where they should lodge a paper application.

An application for a first Working Holiday visa CANNOT be lodged in Australia.

Completed application forms may be sent by mail, accompanied by the appropriate visa application charge. Do not send cash with your application. Address details for each Australian Government office overseas can be obtained from the department's website.

Passport holders of the United Kingdom, Canada, Denmark, the Netherlands, Sweden, Norway, the Republic of Ireland, Finland, France, Italy, Belgium and Estonia can apply at any Australian Government office outside Australia. Most Working Holidaymaker-eligible passport holders are able to apply for a Working Holiday visa anywhere outside Australia. Applicants who hold a valid passport from Japan, the Republic of Korea, Malta and the Republic of Cyprus, must apply in the country of their passport. Taiwanese and the HKSAR passport holders (including British National Overseas passport holders) must apply in Taiwan and Hong Kong respectively.

An application for a second Working Holiday visa may be lodged either in or outside Australia.

Applicants from Japan, the Republic of Korea, Malta and the Republic of Cyprus, as well as Taiwanese and HKSAR passport holders, may also apply for a second Working Holiday visa from within Australia.

Completed application forms for a second Working Holiday visa should be sent to:

E-Visa WHM
National Processing Office
GPO Box 1496
Hobart TAS 7001
AUSTRALIA

Is there a charge for the visa?

Yes. Details of visa application charges can be obtained from the department's website under form 990i Charges. Please ensure that you choose the latest form 990i from the selection, in order to obtain up-to-date charges. The Australian Government office is also able to provide you with information on charges.

Is an interview necessary?

You may be interviewed so that the aim of the Working Holiday Maker program can be explained and an assessment made of your likely contribution to the program.

Do I need a return ticket?

Yes, or be able to show that you have sufficient funds for a return or onward fare.

You should also provide evidence (eg. bank statement or savings book) of sufficient funds, ie. A$5000, for the initial stage of your holiday.

Do I need to have a medical examination?

All applicants are required to meet health criteria. Formal health examinations will be required in certain circumstances:

- A chest x-ray (using form 160) will be required:
 - if you are a resident of, or in the last 5 years have spent more than 3 consecutive months in, a country or countries considered to be of a very high risk in terms of tuberculosis. For a list of very high risk countries, please see form 1163i Health requirement for temporary entry to Australia or visit the website of the Australian Government office where you intend to lodge your application;
 - if you are likely to enter an Australian hospital or health care area (including nursing homes) for work, training, treatment or visiting;
 - if you are likely to be engaged in an Australian child care centre (including preschools or creches), as either an employee or trainee; or
 - if you are likely to work or study in a classroom environment for more than 4 weeks.
- A chest x-ray (using form 160) and a medical examination (using form 26), including any specialist reports, will be required if there is an indication you may not meet the health requirement.

Examinations are conducted by 'panel doctors'. A list of panel doctors can be obtained by visiting the website of your nearest Australian Government office. Two passport photographs will be required for any medical or x-ray examination.

Failure to submit the appropriate documentation at the time of application may result in delays in the processing of your visa.

If you are applying from within Australia for your second Working Holiday visa, you will need to undergo a health examination appropriate for someone who will be in Australia for longer than 12 months.

Please refer to form 1163i Health requirement for temporary entry to Australia.

For how long is the visa valid?

If you apply outside Australia, your Working Holiday visa gives you 12 months to travel to Australia from the date the visa is granted and allows you to stay in Australia for 12 months from the date you first enter Australia.

If you apply from within Australia while you are still the holder of your first Working Holiday visa and are granted your second Working Holiday visa before your first Working Holiday visa has ceased, your visa will allow you to stay in Australia for a total of 24 months.

For example, you arrive in Australia on your first Working Holiday visa on 1 January 2006. Your first Working Holiday visa is valid until 1 January 2007. You apply for, and are granted, a second Working Holiday visa on 1 November 2006. You are able to remain in Australia until 1 January 2008.

Can I travel into and out of Australia on my Working Holiday visa?

Yes, you can. However, if you depart Australia during your 12-month stay, you are not able to 'top up' or recover, in any way, the period of time spent outside Australia.

For example, you arrive in Australia on 1 January 2006. Your Working Holiday visa is valid until 1 January 2007. On 1 May 2006 you depart Australia, returning on 1 July 2006. Your Working Holiday visa still expires on 1 January 2007. You cannot, under any circumstances, have your visa extended to account for the time you spent outside Australia.

What are the work conditions?

The main purpose of your visit should be to holiday and travel. Although you may stay for a maximum of 12 months in Australia, you should not work for the full period of your stay. As a Working Holiday visa holder you are not permitted to work for longer than 6 months with the one employer. You are not permitted to extend your employment beyond 6 months with any one employer through the use of business affiliates and/or sub-contracting arrangements or employment agencies. In practical terms, this means that you cannot work for longer than 6 months in the same position, in the same location, doing the same work.

If you are found to be working beyond the approved period, you may have your visa cancelled and be required to leave Australia.

Where can I find information on rates of pay and conditions?

If you require such information, you should contact the nearest office of the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations in Australia. Alternatively, general information on wages and conditions can be obtained through their internet address which is www.wagenet.gov.au The wages and conditions of a Working Holiday visa holder should be consistent with Australian standards.

Please note that if you intend to work in your occupation in Australia you should be aware that registration or licensing may be required. This applies particularly to the health professions. You should contact the relevant assessing body to ascertain if you need to obtain registration or licensing in Australia. See form 1121i Skilled Occupations List for contact numbers.

Do I need health insurance?

Yes, unless there is a reciprocal health care agreement between Australia and your country of residence (or in certain circumstances your country of residence and citizenship). For more information, see www.medicareaustralia.gov.au/yourhealth/services_for_travellers. You should take out private health insurance that takes into account your individual needs and will cover your personal circumstances in Australia.

Can I change to another visa?

You can apply for another visa while you are in Australia if you meet the requirements for another visa. Working Holiday visa holders are able to meet the criteria for grant of a visitor visa to enable a longer stay in Australia only if exceptional circumstances exist.

Is there anything else I should know about the visa conditions?

The Working Holiday visa conditions outlined above are noted on the visa. The visa conditions are substantially the same for both a first and a second Working Holiday visa. A breach of these conditions may result in cancellation of your visa and you may be required to leave Australia. If you require further information about the conditions, please contact any office of the department.

Where can I get more information?

General information can be obtained from the department's website www.gov.au/allforms/visiting_whm.htm

Outside Australia please contact the nearest Australian Government office for information on the Visa Application Charge and Working Holiday visa requirements.

Visa application charge

There is a prescribed charge which must accompany each application. The application will not be valid unless the charge has been received. If the application is unsuccessful there is generally no provision to refund the charge.

Before you make your payment, please contact the Australian Government office where you intend to lodge your application to find out what methods of payment can be accepted at that office.

How to apply

Who should use this form?

Refer to the eligibility criteria on page 1.

Important

Most visa applicants will be required to hold a valid passport before they can be granted a visa. It is strongly recommended that the passport be valid for the entire period of your stay in Australia.

Applicants for a first Working Holiday visa

If you change your passport after you have been granted the visa you must notify the department.

Applicants for a second Working Holiday visa

If you change your passport after you have been granted the second Working Holiday visa you must notify the department at 2ndWHM.Helpdesk@immi.gov.au

If you do not provide us with the details of any new or additional passport you use to travel to Australia, you will experience significant delays at the airport and could be denied permission to board your plane.

Step 1

Complete the application form.

Please use a pen, and write neatly in English using BLOCK LETTERS.

You must provide the address of where you intend to live while your application is being dealt with. Failure to give a residential address in your application will result in your application being invalid. A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address.

Step 2

Lodge your application form, passport, charge and attachments (if required) at the nearest Australian Government office.

Your application can be lodged personally or by your representative, or sent by mail. Address details for each Australian Government office can be found on the department's website www.immi.gov.au

If you are lodging an application for a second Working Holiday visa, your completed application form should be sent to:

E-Visa WHM
National Processing Office
GPO Box 1496
Hobart TAS 7001
AUSTRALIA

If you wish to change any details after you lodge your application, or if you wish to withdraw it, please contact the office where you lodged the form.

What happens next?

Your application will be considered and you may be asked to provide additional information to enable a decision to be made.

You will be advised in writing whether your application has been approved or not. If your application is refused, you will be given a reason for the decision.

Authorisation of a person to only receive written communications

You may authorise another person to only receive all written communications about your Working Holiday visa application. That person will be known as your authorised recipient. To do this you will need to complete Part D Options for receiving written communications and Part E Authorised recipient details in this form. The authorised recipient will need to sign at Part F. You can only appoint one authorised recipient at any time. The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient.

The department is required under section 494D of the Migration Act 1958 (the Act) to send your authorised recipient any written communications relating to your application that would otherwise have been sent to you. The department will only send your authorised recipient information which you are entitled to receive. For example, if you are a visa applicant and have a sponsor, your authorised recipient will not receive personal information about your sponsor, unless your sponsor also appointed the same authorised recipient.

If you decide to change your nominated authorised recipient, after you have lodged this application, you must promptly advise the department in writing. You may use form 1231 Appointment of authorised recipient for this purpose.

Authorisation of a migration agent to act on your behalf

If you have a migration agent acting on your behalf in relation to your Working Holiday visa application, you need to complete Part D Options for receiving written communications and Part G Agent details. The migration agent will need to sign at Part H Agent Consent.

Appointing a migration agent to act on your behalf includes authorising the department to:

- discuss your Working Holiday visa application with the agent and seek further information from them; and
- send your agent written communications about your Working Holiday visa application that would otherwise have been sent to you.

Note: Your migration agent will be your authorised recipient for written communication under section 494D of the Act and you will be taken to have received any documents sent to them.

If you change your migration agent or end his/her appointment, after you have lodged this application, you must promptly advise the department in writing, preferably by using form 956 Appointment of a migration agent, which is available on the department's website or from your migration agent.

The department will communicate with your agent about your application, including your personal information such as health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. If your agent authorises it see Part H, this communication may take place by e-mail or fax.

The department will only send your agent information which you are entitled to receive. For example, if you are a visa applicant and have a sponsor, your agent will not receive personal information about your sponsor, unless your sponsor has also appointed the same agent.

In some situations, the department's staff will need to speak with you directly, rather than with your migration agent – for example, if you are applying for a visa the department may interview you. In some situations, the department's staff will also send documents to you directly (eg. passport) instead of to your agent, but it will inform your agent that it has done so.

If you have appointed a migration agent to act for you, you are still responsible for the accuracy of information and supporting documentation that you give to your agent so that your agent can provide it to the department.

When you provide the details of your migration agent, please make sure you include their 7-digit:

- migration agent registration number (if they are a registered migration agent); or
- offshore agent ID number (if they have been allocated one by the department).

Note: Agents who operate overseas do not need to be registered. They may however, have been allocated an ID number by the department.

Using a migration agent

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act in the lawful best interests of their clients and act professionally.

A list of registered migration agents is available from the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA) website www.themara.com.au

You can contact the MARA at:

E-mail: themara@themara.com.au

PO Box Q1551
QVB NSW 1230
AUSTRALIA

Telephone: 61 2 9299 5446

Fax number: 61 2 9299 8448

The MARA investigates complaints against registered migration agents and may take disciplinary action against them. If you have a concern about a registered migration agent, you should contact the MARA. A copy of the complaint form is available from the MARA website.

Restrictions on giving immigration assistance

In Australia, anyone (including a lawyer) who uses knowledge of migration procedure to offer immigration assistance to a visa or cancellation review applicant, sponsor or nominator, must be registered, unless exempted from registration requirements by law. There are serious criminal penalties under Part 3 of the Act for breaching the law – including possible imprisonment if the unregistered person asks for, or receives, a fee or reward for their services.

Using an agent exempted from registration

Certain people, such as officials, parliamentarians, diplomats, close family members (ie. only your spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister), sponsors and nominators, are able to provide you with immigration assistance as long as they do not ask or receive a fee or reward. If you wish to appoint an 'exempted agent', you must complete form 956 Appointment of a migration agent and attach it to this application form.

Notification of giving immigration assistance

Under section 312A of the Act, a registered agent has a duty to notify the department when lodging an application on behalf of a client, or within 28 days of commencing to act on behalf of a visa applicant. This notification can be done, by completing and your agent signing the relevant sections of this application form.

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or e-mail will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with. If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose.

If you are applying for your first Working Holiday visa, your e-mail address and mobile phone number may be provided to the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations so that they can contact you via e-mail and text messaging about seasonal work opportunities in regional Australia.

The Commonwealth Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on the form to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

About the information you give

The department is authorised to collect information provided on this form under Part 2 of the Migration Act 1958 'Control of Arrival and Presence of Non-Citizens'. The information provided will be used for assessing your eligibility for a visa to migrate to Australia.

The information provided might also be disclosed to agencies who are authorised to receive information relating to adoption, border control, business skills, citizenship, education, health assessment, health insurance, health services, law enforcement, payment of pensions and benefits, taxation, review of decisions and registration of migration agents.

Relevant information about you will be disclosed to Federal, State and Territory police to assist in your location and possible detention in the event that you become an unlawful non-citizen. You will become an unlawful non-citizen if your visa ceases (by cancellation for breach of visa condition for example) or expires and you do not hold another visa authorising you to remain in Australia.

If you are applying for your first Working Holiday visa, and have agreed, your contact details will be provided to the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations so that they can contact you via e-mail and text messaging about seasonal work opportunities in regional Australia.

The collection, access, storage, use and disclosure by the department of the information you provide in this form is governed by the Privacy Act 1988 and, in particular, by the 11 Information Privacy Principles. The information form 993i Safeguarding your personal information, available from offices of the department, gives details of agencies to which your personal information might be disclosed.

The information on this form, including the results of any tests for Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV), will be used to assess your health for an Australian visa. A positive HIV or other test result will not necessarily lead to a visa being denied. Your result(s) may be disclosed to the relevant Commonwealth, State and Territory Health agencies.

The department has authority under the Migration Act 1958 to collect a range of personal identifiers from non-citizens, including visa applicants, in certain circumstances. For more detailed information you should read information form 1243i Your personal identifying information, which is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

The Freedom of Information Act 1982 also relates to your personal information. Under this Act you can apply for access to documents containing your personal information. You or someone authorised to access information on your behalf can apply to do this at any office of the department in Australia. There is no fee for accessing your own information. If you are overseas, you must also provide the Australian mission overseas with an address in Australia to which copies of personal records can be sent. More information on how to make a request under the Freedom of Information Act is given on form 424A Request for access to documents.
